

The WSOP Ladies got their champion!

Vanessa Hellebuyck is the first French woman to win world champion's title in the WSOP. The event occurred on Sunday evening and the happy winner was imposed after three days of relentless competition, in front of 1053 players. This young mom huge fan of poker and member of Team770, representing the on-line poker room, Poker770, will join France with an attractive $192 132 check in its luggage and her champion's magnificent bracelet.

It is by the door of on-line poker, that Vanessa Hellebuyck became known her talents, in particular in the heart of Team Ladies, which she likes particularly to be with her table partners, proud in representing France in the major tournaments.

Today, Vanessa Hellebuyck joins the very private club of the poker world champions and confirms that the high-level female poker is not trivial. France counts now 5 world champions' bracelets of poker and the heroine of the day is classified among the famous alter-ego male, as Patrick Bruel, David Benyamine, Claude Cohen and Gilbert Gross. Let's say welcome to the Club!
